MEMORANDUM FOR: Distribution

FROM:

[REDACTED]
Executive Officer
Community Counterintelligence and Security
Countermeasures Office

25X1

SUBJECT: CCISCMO Director and Functions Overview (U)

This correspondence announces, for the information of addressees, the appointment of the new Director of the Community Counterintelligence and Security Countermeasures Office (CCISCMO), Intelligence Community Staff, and also provides an overview of key functions of that office. [REDACTED]

DIRECTOR:

Richard S (Dick) Beyea, Brigadier General, USAF (Ret.), was appointed Director, CCISCMO, effective 25 April 1988. He brings to this task extensive experience acquired principally during a military career which culminated in his almost eight year assignment as the Commander of the Air Force Office of Special Investigations. [REDACTED]

CCISCMO FUNCTIONS:

CCISCMO supports the DCI, in part, by serving as the Community coordinator on an annual national assessment of the foreign (hostile) multidisciplinary intelligence collection threat to the United States. The office also coordinates a parallel examination of the effectiveness of the nation's countermeasures to that threat, develops recommendations to improve the nation's security defenses, and assists in monitoring the implementation of approved recommendations. The CCISCMO staff collates, edits, and publishes this assessment for the Senior Interagency Group-Intelligence (SIG-I) as directed by the President. [REDACTED]

25X1

The office staff also provides administrative and subject matter expert support to the SIG-I system, which is charged with developing, recommending, and monitoring national policy on counterintelligence and security countermeasures issues. CCISCMO supports SIG-I Chairman (DCI) and Intelligence Community interests by serving as the secretariat for the Interagency Groups (IGs) for Counterintelligence, Security Countermeasures-Policy, and Security Countermeasures-Technical that operate under the aegis of the SIG-I. It also provides staff support to the SIG-I when that body considers counterintelligence and security countermeasures issues. CCISCMO assists with evaluations of Community counterintelligence and security countermeasures policies, programs, priorities, and activities. [REDACTED]

25X1

CCISCMO further advises and supports the DCI and the Community on the protection of sensitive compartmented information (SCI), the protection of intelligence sources and methods, the unauthorized disclosure of classified information, as well as by the conduct of ad hoc studies and other tasks as assigned by the DCI or Director, Intelligence Community Staff. Respectively, it provides the Chairman for the DCI Security Forum; manages the Unauthorized Disclosure Analysis Center (UDAC); staffs the national multidisciplinary counterintelligence (MDCI) analysis center; and collates, edits, and distributes the national register of MDCI products.
